Martin's Safety Training, a division of 2511214 Ontario Ltd. has been providing training at our agricultural sector business for several years now. The seasonal element to our business provides some challenges. Frequently, we need reactive hiring which produces instant training needs. Max Underhill's Farm Supply Ltd. has some unique training requirements such as skid steer and portable truck/trailer mounted piggyback forklifts that Martin's have created and adopted training programs for.

Martin's Safety Training has developed approved training programs to ensure all legal needs are covered as well as preparing our employees for the job tasks that need to be performed. Martin's Safety Training is responsive and accommodating to our fast paced seasonal requirements as well as our planned training sessions requiring large group training.

The instructors are well seasoned and experienced allowing them to answer many questions and develop great learning conversations. The down to earth training atmosphere is professional and promotes retention on the most practical level.

Our main core of operators are experienced and knowledgeable and they speak very respectfully of Martin's Safety Training programs.

Based on the above comments you can clearly see we are very pleased with our training interactions with Martin's Safety Training. We would endorse lift truck, skid steer and portable truck/trailer mounted piggyback forklift training completely and are confident their other programs offered would be presented in the same manner.
